Description

Brass, double loop (shorter, longer loop), five closed keys for the left hand for g-sharp, a, b-flat, b-natural, and f². No tuning slide. Eduard Johann Bauer (ca. 1811-1871) was the son of instrument maker Johann Adam Bauer in Prague. Trained by his father, Eduard Johann received his license and citizenship in Prague in 1836. In 1844 he was granted a patent for valves. It is therefore likely that the present keyed trumpet was made between 1836 and 1844.
