Clarinet, B-flat

Date

1989-1993 ca.

Primary Maker

G. Leblanc

Description

4 sections: barrel, upper body joint, lower body joint, and bell. "Resotone" plastic body of lilac color, with nickel-silver ferrules and keywork. Boehm system with 17 keys and 6 rings. Right hand side keys are in-line "jump" keys. G. Leblanc's "Vito Dazzler" line, inspired by Vito Pascucci's belief that plastic could be used to create low-cost and high-quality instruments, were classic "Reso-Tone" plastic instruments made in non-traditional colors. They were first advertised in the late 1980s. The exquisite lilac color was only offered between 1989 and 1993, perhaps because it quickly faded over time.
