

Cor anglais, F

Date

1830 ca.

Primary Maker

B. Schott Söhne

Description

An angled cor anglais in boxwood with ivory trim.

Fourteen silver keys (counting the touchpieces) includes low B and an alternate low C#, both operated by the right hand thumb. This instrument reflects the influence of the Viennese oboe as played by oboist Joseph Sellner and made by Stephan Koch and others.

Dimensions

Overall length, excluding bocal, following the angle of the body: 776 mm